

Declaration of Independence

Whereas it is the Natural and Inviolable Right of all people to live free and self-govern without coercion, oppression, or external interference;

And whereas the existing system of government, controlled by corporate foreign powers, has failed in its duty to serve and protect the people by imposing unjust laws, perpetuating economic exploitation, and stripping us of our knowledge, history, health, sovereignty, and dignity;

We, the people of Terra Australis, in solemn recognition of our duty to current and future generations, hereby dissolve all political ties to foreign governing entities and their systems of legal administration.

Having publicly declared our peaceful assembly on 12 January 2024, we now establish a sovereign State, upon the following principles:

- Peace and good will among all people,
- Truth, transparency, and integrity in governance,
- 'Love thy neighbour' and 'do no harm',
- Accountability for one's actions and their consequences,
- Protection of Natural Rights and property,
- Stewardship of the Earth, fostering harmony with the natural world,
- Responsible use of shared public assets, ensuring their preservation for future generations.

This Declaration affirms our dominion over the Land, Air, Water and Soil, our resolve to establish safe, lawful communities, and our collective responsibility to participate in the governance and defence of our nation.

On 15 June 2023, during the International Assembly Coordinator meeting with Anna Maria Riezinger, the Terra Australis State Nationals were directed to swiftly issue a counterclaim securing the Land and Soil of Terra Australis. Anna emphasised the urgency of standing with the American State Nationals in presenting our unified claims before the Vatican Chancery Court on 20 June 2023.

On 19 June 2023, three Terra Australis State Nationals, acting under the "Last Man Standing" principle, formally autographed a lawful Notice and Counterclaim in behalf of all rightful heirs. This decisive action lawfully secured our nation's Land and Soil, countering the fraudulent claim by corporations masquerading as lawful government that our lands had been vacated when all people boarded the Citizen-ship.

Declaration of Independence

We are assembled. We bring forth assembly-based self-governance by the people, for the people.

I. Statement of Ideals

We hold these truths to be self-evident: all people are created equal, endowed with unalienable Natural Rights, an innate sense of right and wrong, and an inherent inclination toward doing what is right, bound only by the Law of Terra Australis. These rights exist beyond the reach of any earthly power and cannot be granted, revoked, or diminished by any authority.

Government exists solely to serve and protect the people. We reject all forms of tyranny, coercion, and exploitation. Legitimate power must first respect the sovereign individual and then the expressed collective will of the people.

True freedom is not merely the absence of oppression but also the presence of knowledge, opportunity, dignity, and a spirit of mutual aid. We recognise our shared duty to uphold and protect these freedoms through active participation in our assemblies.

We are at peace, yet we stand resolute in defending these principles, ensuring that future generations inherit a world of freedom, harmony, and abundance.

II. List of harms

In the face of long-standing abuses of power, we find it necessary to enumerate the grievances that compel us to declare our independence and dissolve the bonds that have subjected us to the legacy governing structures. The following are some of the actions and policies that have betrayed the people's trust, voiding any presumed authority these corporations may have held:

Healthcare and Pharmaceuticals Grievances

- Profit over health: Pharmaceutical and insurance financial interests too often take precedence.
- Over-medication: Prescription drugs are frequently overused, often causing more harm than healing.
- Suppression of natural medicine: Proven natural remedies remain underutilised due to regulatory barriers.
- Medical negligence: Misdiagnoses and unnecessary procedures persist, leading to preventable harm.

Declaration of Independence

- Vaccine injuries: Adverse effects are downplayed.
- Neglect of mental health: Mental health challenges are exacerbated by systemic failings and policies.

A well-functioning healthcare system would prioritise well-being, promote natural healing and a wholistic approach.

Food and Agriculture Grievances

- Chemical reliance: Farmers may have used agricultural chemicals in good faith, but regulatory capture and corporate control have made safer alternatives financially nonviable.
- Live export: A critical industry for graziers and food security in importing nations; reforms to protect market access while ensuring higher-welfare standards.
- Corporate monopolies: Supermarkets and multinational agribusinesses suppress farm gate prices, inflate costs for consumers, and import foods rather than sourcing locally.
- Genetically Modified Organisms (GMOs): Encouraging use of GMOs with known health risks.
- Factory farming practices: Industrialised agriculture prioritises profit leading to concerns over antibiotic overuse, animal cruelty and welfare, and food nutrition.
- Water and land control: Foreign and corporate ownership of essential water and agricultural assets threatens national food security and local farmers.
- Monoculture: Farming practices that strip the land of nutrients, making food less nutritious and damaging natural ecology.
- Processed and synthetic foods: Promotion of ultra-processed foods high in chemicals, preservatives, and unhealthy oils.
- Water supply: Poisoning of drinking and bathing water with chemicals such as Fluoride and Chlorine.

Agriculture should nourish both people and the land, but foreign corporate control has distorted its purpose.

Technology and Telecommunications Grievances

- Information manipulation: Distortion of facts, spreading disinformation, and withholding truth.
- Surveillance and privacy violations: Mass data collection and tracking infringe on privacy.
- Censorship of free speech: Independent journalism and free speech are censored.
- The rapid deployment of 5G technology has occurred without safety data or full transparency on its long-term health and environmental impacts.
- Tech addiction: Exploiting vulnerabilities, fuelling addiction, anxiety, depression, and isolation.
- Manipulation via AI: AI and algorithms are used to influence public opinion and shape behaviour.

Technology should empower, not exploit. The current system prioritises control over progress.

Declaration of Independence

Finance and Banking Grievances

- Debt slavery: The financial system traps people in endless debt cycles.
- Trading whilst insolvent: since 20 April 2020

A stable financial system should serve the people, not exploit them.

Energy and Utilities Grievances

- Suppression of technologies: Viable free and very low cost energy technologies are hidden from the public.
- Overcharging for utilities: Sale of public utilities, overcharging and over taxing, limiting supply and reliability.
- Climate scam: Climate policies leveraged to push restrictive, expensive solutions that negatively benefit the environment and the people.

Energy is abundant and affordable, yet access remains artificially restricted.

Government and Legal Systems Grievances

- Engaging in mercenary conflicts: Military actions serve foreign or corporate interests.
- Militarised Policy Enforcement: Weaponising then encouraging the use of violence by policy enforcement.
- Ignoring the people's will: Lawful petitions and peaceful protests are disregarded.
- Failure to protect: Oppressive laws, regulations and violence remove freedom.
- Censorship: Restricting free speech and dissent through censorship, surveillance, and punitive measures.
- Corruption: Institutions created to control and strip assets while ignoring people's actual needs.
- Rule of Law: Neither government nor the legal system serve the people. Legal is not the same as Law.
- Betraying Public Trust: The government serves an unelected private elite, entering into treaties that support surveillance, medical tyranny, digital currency, social / carbon credit scores and other despotic policies.
- Taxation: Taxation without benefit to the people.

The purpose of government is to protect and serve, not control, ignore and harm.

Environmental Harm

- Geoengineering: Spraying of heavy metals, chemicals, technological and biological agents.
- Water sources: Polluting natural water sources with chemicals, industrial waste, and heavy metals.
- The Climate Change hoax: Policies framed around climate change are used to justify restrictions on freedoms and push private agendas, rather than genuine environmental stewardship.

Declaration of Independence

- Green policy: Overregulation restricts farmers from caring for their land while allowing destructive corporate projects to proceed seemingly unchecked.

The land, water, and air must be protected.

Education Grievances

- Indoctrination: The education system prioritises conformity, obedience, and regurgitation.
- Student debt: Higher education has become a financial trap.
- Educational institutions promote an incomplete or misleading version of history and science, shaping narratives that serve political and economic agendas.
- Sexualisation of minors: Inappropriate topics are introduced under misleading pretences.

True education should foster wisdom, not compliance.

Transportation and Infrastructure Grievances

- Privatisation: Privatising essential transportation services and public assets.
- Planned obsolescence: Designing manufactured products to require frequent repairs or replacements.
- Neglect of infrastructure: Underfunding essential infrastructure (roads, bridges, public services).

Roads, infrastructure, essential services belong to and should serve the people.

Media and Entertainment Grievances

- Propaganda and manipulation: Media pushing biased narratives that misinform or manipulate the public.
- Desensitisation: Family entertainment glorifying violence, sex, and unethical behaviour.
- Celebrity culture: Promoting shallow celebrity-driven culture to distract from social and political issues.

Media should inform and inspire, not deceive and manipulate.

Government is unfit to rule

The above list of harms is indicative of the actions propagated by the legacy governmental service providers. Through these cumulative actions, any legitimate claim to govern the people is forfeited. It would seem, on the basis of overwhelming evidence, that every problem we face today has been legislated into existence. The assemblies are the way communities can come together and find real workable solutions themselves.

III. Lawful Justification

When a government ceases to serve the people and instead acts against them, it is the people's right and obligation to alter or abolish it and establish governance that protects their interests. This Declaration of Independence enshrines that duty.

Declaration of Independence

By this Declaration, we prepare the way to invoke Law on the Land and Soil of Terra Australis, renouncing all unlawful claims of Maritime, Military, or other lower jurisdictions, Acts, statutes, codes, and mandates.

We affirm the principle of popular sovereignty. The suveran people are the sole and rightful source of all political authority. We claim our nation's sovereignty and stablish governance subject to the expressed collective will of the people.

This is lawful notice to all agents, officers, and contractors of the legacy system governmental service provider corporations: Impersonating public officials is a crime. Your institutions, which owe good faith service to the people, are exceeding their lawful authority.

IV. Final Declaration of Separation

By this Declaration, we, the State Nationals on Terra Australis, claim our dominion over our land, laws, and governance, formally and irrevocably separating ourselves from the oppressive structures of the past.

We renounce all allegiance to legacy system governing bodies and reject all unlawful claims.

The people are not bound by treaties, agreements, or arrangements made by legacy system governmental service provider corporations, and such agreements hold no authority at Law.

Terra Australis stands independent, governed by the assembled suveran people exercising the inherent right to self-determination. No external force has the right to dictate our lives or control our destinies.

We declare our peaceful independence with the support and acknowledgement of the true government of The United States of America, the fifty States assembled, and the people assembled in England, Eire / Terra Eiru, Northern Ireland, Terre Italiche, Portugal, Terra Canada, Jamaica, Romania, South Africa, Spain, Germany and Estonia. These nations stand as witnesses to the creation of a new nation, Terra Australis, affirming our rightful place among the free peoples of the Earth.

Declaration of Independence

Affirmation

By this Declaration of Independence, we establish lawful jurisdiction on the Land and Soil of Terra Australis, rejecting all foreign claims, corporate authority, and unlawful impositions, standing as free men and women, united, unwavering, and guided by truth.

This Declaration is affirmed, sealed, and delivered on this day 6 July 2025, by the free men and women of Terra Australis.
